Preamble

Literacy percentage in India is alarming. The whole world is moving towards e-governance, but India still lacks in the literacy department. The people need to be educated and made e-literate for e-governance to flourish. The state can encourage people to go online if it can make people comfortable with e-Governance and to build technical infrastructure and framework across Maharashtra state. It is very important for the Maharashtra government to set uniform standards in regards to Inter-operability standards, Security standards, Technical standards, Quality standards. to be followed by all the departments and agencies.

Easy Permit is step towards this direction.
