ABOUT AGRA

Agra is one of the most popular tourist destination in India. It is renowned for being home to one of the Seven Wonders of the World, the Taj Mahal. It is as loved by Indians as it is by foreigners who throng here in large numbers to admire its beauty. Along with Delhi and Jaipur, Agra forms the Golden Triangle of tourism in India. Situated in Uttar Pradesh, Agra is synonymous with the Taj Mahal however there's lot more to the city than this world-famous monument.

AGRA FORT

Another architectural jewel in this city is the Agra Fort, a UNESCO World Heritage Site. It was built by Mughal Emperor Akbar with the help of 4,000 workers who worked for eight years to finish its construction in 1573. Agra Fort is made of red sandstone and was the seat of the Mughal Empire.

FATEHPUR SIKRI

One of Emperor Akbar's pet projects was building a walled city a little away from Agra. He called it Fatehpur Sikri and even ruled here for some-time before he was forced to move out due to shortage of water supply. Nevertheless, the surviving monuments tell a tale of his valour and great work. One of the best architectural wonders of Fatehpur Sikri is the Buland Darwaza, a grand gateway to the walled city.

MATHURA

The birthplace of Lord Krishna is visited and re-visited by thousands of people from all corners of the country and abroad. It is a landlocked city with Agra. This city boasts of an illustrative history that is marked with gripping stories, legends and events.

VRINDAVAN

For devotees of Krishna, the next stop is Vrindavan that is 55 km away from Agra. If Mathura was the birthplace of Krishna, Vrindavan was where he grew up. The entire city is a pilgrimage and one of the oldest cities in the world. The ISKCON Group that has temples across India has one in Vrindavan too. Singing and dancing in praise of Krishna is quite common here.

GETTING THERE

Agra is well-connected by road, rail and air with most parts of the country as it is a prime tourist destination. Interestingly, it is 335 km away from the state capital Lucknow and only 233 km away from Delhi. The city is on the banks of the River Yamuna and enjoys a healthy influx of tourists all year round.
