

Dr Bhuvna Ahuja

Dr Bhuvna Ahuja is a young and energetic Critical Care Physician. She is working at Lok Nayak Hospital, New Delhi. Looking after Neuro Critical Care, as consultant and in- charge. She has 10 years' experience in critical care for taking care of Medical and surgical critical care with 5 years specifically in Neuro Critical Care. She is a member of different societies of critical care. She has organized CMEs and Quiz for PGs and participated in numerous academic events. She was member of different projects and worked alongside and collaborated with reputed national and international faculty in the field of critical care medicine. She is a member of ISCCM since 2020. She is a regular faculty in ISCCM national conference since 2022 and delivered lectures and participated in panel discussions and conducted workshops. Her areas of interest in critical care medicine are Neuro monitoring, neuro management, invasive and non-invasive ventilation, trauma management. She has authored many chapters in Critical Care related books. She is currently working and steering many research publications.