

ABSTRACT – DR. OH HUEY HUEY

Rashes in Children

Skin rashes are among the most common reasons for a paediatric visit to a GP.

This talk will cover the approach to skin rashes (common infectious and non-infectious).

Considerations should include distribution, pattern and local arrangement, morphology, clinical course, timing of onset in relation to fever, associated symptoms such as itch and pain, extracutaneous features, drug history and medical illness.