

Curriculum Vitae Dr Damian Wong

Dr Damian Wong graduated from the University of Malaya in 1973 and obtained His MRCP in 1977 and fellowships in the Royal Colleges of London, Edinburgh and London from 1989. He is a fellow of the Academy of medicine and the founding member of the Malaysian Society of Gastroenterology and Hepatology. He was the Honorary Secretary of the Penang Medical Practitioners' society for 4 years and the committee member and CME coordinator from 1996 to 2019.

He worked at the Ipoh General Hospital and in the Army during his early years. He was trained in internal medicine and gastroenterology at the University hospital Kuala Lumpur. He had further training in Gastroenterology at The Middlesex Hospital in London and in Japan.

He was the lecturer and subsequent Associate Professor in Medicine and gastroenterology at the Faculty of medicine University of Malaya Kuala Lumpur. Where he was also the Consultant gastroenterologist at the University hospital. He was also the Honorary lecturer in Medicine and gastroenterology at The Chinese University of Hong Kong for a year.

He was the Head of gastroenterology and Endoscopy at the University Hospital Kuala Lumpur when it was first started until he left for private practice in Penang in 1996.

He served as the Consultant gastroenterologist at the Loh Guan Lye Specialist centre from 1996 and at Island hospital from 2012.

He continues teaching at the Penang Medical college (RUMC)