

This Moment

This Moment - poignant with so much
A turning point in life
The stirring of a dawn quite new
Perhaps to end the strife...

The season with its changing hues
Sheds off its withered past
The winds of time with gentleness
Bring in the wintry blast

How crisp and challenging it is Baring the being to All
Preparing with perseverance
The Body, for the "Call"

The Call to Time's potential seed
That waits in depths unknown
Protected in obscurity
To come into its own

This Moment...on a journey new
With "Ifs and Buts" galore
Sharpens the senses evermore
Stirring One's deepest Core

The Question of the Time to come
Brightens the Being within
As though the growing seed of Truth
Shall make the world "Akin"

The powers of the Universe
Surround us from Above
With Life's Secret Perfection
With Wisdom, Will and Love
